

The “Hats” Approach to Reading Comprehension

- ☀ When reading any type of essay, book, poem, etc., some students may find it hard to understand the deeper meaning of what the author is trying to relay to their audience. Using the “Hats” approach, tutors can help students dive deeper into the reading to understand the full length of what is being read.
- ☀ Another possible hat that may be fun for your students is the Magic Hat, where connections can be made based on real life situations or experiences and/or what someone has read or seen before to help one make sense of what they are reading within the text.
